

2022/23

Pitchfix is proud to partner with the leading names in golf.

A NEW LOOK FOR A NEW ERA

Our product development team have been working hard during lockdown to develop our ranges and evolve our products.

As such we have decided to give our logo a facelift. We've updated our logotype to a contemporary, unique style that is unmistakably Pitchfix and we've added our new roundel device too!

The roundel is used as an additional icon to help identify our proprietary product designs and our innovations. In spite of our best efforts our designs are often under threat from imitation brands seeking to benefit from our research and development, but producing inferior products, using poor quality materials and often unreliable mechanisms.

This is our first catalogue using the new identity, which will now be more evident across all our media, promotional materials and packaging. When you see our logo and icons you can be assured that you're buying from a company, and using a product that epitomises the high standards that we expect on and off the course.
